This project is about a typographic work in which I use writings and typography to reproduce the power relations, religions, right-wing populist tendencies and languages in the EU. The individual writings also have their history, go through a development and evoke emotions. That's what I'm working with.

Elisa Schober

Elisa Schober, born 1996 in Innsbruck, is a visual artist, studying at the Academy of fine Arts in Vienna. In her artworks she examines materials, forms and textures within different methods and analoge techniques. The duel between second and third dimension is found here as a constant with the focus on working with modules. There is always the question of the demarcation between line and space, drawing and object. The exhaustion of this border, the attempt to let both flow into each other becomes a major intention.

Olesya Kleymenova

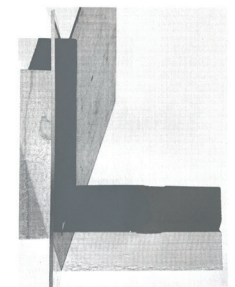

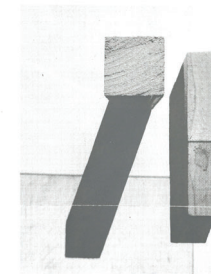

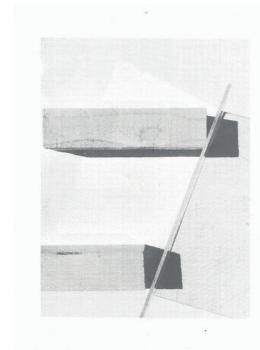

Olesya Kleymenova was born in Moscow, Russia. Her work concentrates mainly on the experience of living in an urban space. She uses mixed media (photography, sculpture, drawing, animation, collages etc.) to explore public and private spheres of constructed environments and to question the meaning of identity and intimacy within the paradigm of the complex everyday city life. She deals with the fragile yet heavy matter of human emotions and physicality intertwined with the impossibility, as well as reluctance, to completely separate oneself from the surrounding space. She lives and works in Vienna, Austria.

Her artistic practice focus on intersection of (media-/bio-) technology, politics of images, technology is not only a tool but represents the hybridity politics of extensions, spots

the questions of information, identities, publicity and politics. these issues affect fragmented perception of reality and this is the area, where aesthetical issues became

HOON & PYO

We are Korean artist duo, living and studying in Vienna. Currently, as a duo, we are working with screen printing that Pyo takes the photography and Hoon does draw on the photography works. Mainly, we are dealing with the memory and creation, which is the medium as well as the theme. What we show in Parallel Edition 2022 is the series of [Sign on the road]. It is about the road of a pioneer who has some trauma. It is the story that the Protagonist in our works encounters several road sign when he/she/ they has walked on the way to the freedom from a trauma. So, we brought the name of road signs to the titles, then it became the connotative statement of the works.
